📄 Cover Letter

Hello, my name is Filipe Cardozo, I'm a 26-year-old software engineer with over 5 years of experience building solutions that combine technical excellence with real business impact.

My focus is on modern front-end development (React, Next.js, TypeScript), integrated with robust back-end systems (.NET, Node.js), always with a strong commitment to usability-driven design, automated testing, and scalability. I've worked across a range of projects—from legacy platforms to mission-critical systems—at companies like Neogrid, where I deliver features that directly support strategic business areas.

Beyond code, I think in terms of product. I contribute from technical planning to impact analysis, with a mindset of ownership and cross-functional collaboration. I also lead personal projects (such as SafeTask, a response to the floods in southern Brazil), which reflect my commitment to building relevant, useful solutions.

I'm looking for opportunities where technical growth and autonomy go hand in hand, and where I can continue to contribute to systems that solve real problems with quality and consistency.

If you'd like to discuss how I can add value to your team, I'd be happy to connect.

Best regards,

Filipe Teixeira Cardozo
